Netball is a unique sport, similar to basketball, that requires players to shoot the ball into the opponent's goal at the top of the post. Introduce this sport to any school, park or recreation facility with the Hoopla Recreational Portable Steel Netball System from AAA State of Play. It is a lesser-known game originally from England that has gained popularity around the world in recent years. This high-quality netball system includes a galvanized steel post that has three adjustable goal height options from 8-10 feet to serve a variety of age groups. A 15 inch diameter goal with a net is powder-coated orange and securely placed at the top of the pole. And the welded steel base is powder-coated as well and includes wheels that make this netball system portable without interrupting its stability and safety. The durable steel and powder-coat finishes make this a top-of-the-line sport system designed to last many years. Add the optional pole padding to further improve safety.
