Get your head in the game with the Alphatec Basketball Shot Clocks with Game Timer. Shot clocks are important for basketball courts because they show offensive players precisely how much time they have to shoot and help officials determine whether buzzer-beating shots should be counted. Operators can really impact the excitement and pace of the game as they start, stop and reset the clocks. They add a professional touch that contributes to the fairness and integrity of the game while assisting players and immersing spectators. These shot clocks boast 15 inch LED numerals rated at 100,000 hours. Visible at over 300 feet, they offer the widest viewing angle in the industry. These durable shot clocks measure 26" x 26" x 8" and are encased in 22-gauge galvanized steel with a powder-coat finish to keep them looking new for years. The Alphatec Basketball Shot Clocks with Game Timer include an operator's keyboard and a service/installation manual.
