Basketball is a great sport for kids as it can be played year-round and provides great exercise. Additionally, youth basketball leagues are a great place for kids to make friends and learn about teamwork. It is not always cost efficient to maintain youth and adult sizes of equipment. One solution to this problem are adapters. The Junior Jammer Adjustable Multi-Height Youth Backboard Adapter allows young people to play on installed competition systems by attaching a second goal to the existing one. This unique adapter includes a fiberglass or plastic backboard and a fixed stationary rim. It can be adjusted to five different heights between seven and nine feet for a variety of ages within youth basketball. Additionally, this system moves the net two feet closer to the free throw line. Make any school gym or recreation facility functional for all ages with the Junior Jammer Adjustable Multi-Height Youth Backboard Adapter on AAA State of Play.
