Professional Pro-Mold Backboard Padding is a double-sided two-inch-thick urethane foam that attaches to the bottom half of a backboard and adds a clean, sleek look to the court. The symmetrical halves are ultra-flexible and bend without tearing. Mounting hardware is included for simple bolt-on installation. This protective layer is suitable for all official 72-inch rectangular glass backboards with aluminum or steel frames. Explore the 16 vibrant color options available to reflect the color scheme of your teams and institutions. Add this protective foam to promote safety without interrupting play. It protects players and reduces the risk of injury when contact is made with the backboard. It meets the standards and regulations of high school, collegiate and professional sports organizations. Add a basketball pole pad alongside the Professional Pro-Mold Backboard Padding to prioritize safety for basketball players of all ages and skills.
