Kids will be instantly drawn to the vibrant and playful shapes and colors of the Outdoor Fruit Paint Panel by Infinity. These panels come in three fruit shapes including apple, blueberry and pineapple. They can be purchased individually or as a set and are ideal for early child care and schools. They can be easily mounted to any suitable fence or wall to the perfect height for preschool-age children. A built in paint tray holds several colors of water-based paints, which helps reduce the risk of messy spills. Made from high-quality HDPE plastic, these art panels for painting are built to withstand the elements and frequent washing. The center is made from white plexiglass, allowing the paint to be easily wiped away between painting sessions. Painting and other types of art are important for young children, as it improves hand mobility and self-expression. The Outdoor Fruit Paint Panels bring the classroom outside and offer an exciting art experience for kids.
