Secure your net to a regulation height with the Gared Grand Slam Tennis Net Center Strap with Ground Anchor. The 100 percent synthetic nylon strap is made for strength and longevity in indoor and outdoor environments. All of the necessary hardware and ground anchoring is included in this kit. The anchor is constructed with steel tubing and pins with a galvanized finish for protection from corrosion. With this kit, you will be able to maintain height regulations on your court for competitive play (e.g. if you're hosting matches played under International Tennis Federation rules). Having a control strap is essential if you're wanting to keep net elevation at an ITF required height of 36 inches (3 feet) above the playing surface.
