Children love to play outside even when the sun is shining down, bright and hot. Often times, sunscreen is the only thing that protects children from the sun's rays as they play. The installation of a shade structure not only protects adults and children from the sun, but it also protects any equipment it covers. The Square Shade Shelter with 8 feet high Entrance Height comes in a wide variety of sizes, meaning it is able to shade a wide variety of items. The most common uses for the Square Shade Shelter are covering small structures, sand boxes, and small picnic areas, though the shade can prove useful in many settings. You have the option of choosing a shade with or without glide elbows. Glide elbows assist in the installation of the shade as well as quick removal in the case of inclement weather. The Square Shade Shelter features a heavy duty fabric that is available in various colors, so you are sure to find a color to fit in with your setting.
