If you're looking to accommodate kids who love to climb, look no further than the Triangle Overhead Ladder Climber to get them engaged and active on the playground. At seven feet high, kids can tower above the rest of their peers. The Climber's three entrances mean that it can be used by multiple children at once. And the sturdy, weather resistant material it's made from will help prevent wear and tear from daily use. There are many ways to play, whether they choose to journey around the overhead ladder from below or the top. The intuitive angular shape of the bars makes it easy for kids to climb around the entire structure without risks of overcrowding. The open space at the bottom can serve as a great space for a fort, or simply as a spot for children to gather with their peers. The Triangle Overhead Climber can be customized with different colors to fit into any playground color scheme.
