The Triple Royal Core Combo provides three great ways for users ages 13 and up to engage in core-related exercises, including pull ups, sit ups, and dips. Rather than utilizing weighted resistance, the Core Combo facilitates body-weight exercises that can be performed without the need for cumbersome resistance plates. The sit up bench features two bars that are parallel to each other, which allow the user to make doing sit ups harder or easier, depending on the user's ideal level of difficulty. The dip bar is made using galvanized steel bars, which can easily tolerate a variety of different weights, as well as inclement weather conditions. Lastly, the Triple Royal Core Combo features a pull up bar with two sturdy handles, allowing for different types of pull ups to be performed by the user. Add the Triple Royal Core Combo to your outdoor space and all who use it will be able to get a great core workout.
