Looking for a way to charge phones and tablets in an outdoor area? The Solar Powered Bench is a great fit for just about any outdoor site, with its simplistic and modern design. It uses the classic Horizontal Strap design, offering a timeless appearance that complements many styles of outdoor furniture. It is not uncommon for someone to forget to charge their phone or other small electronic device before heading out for the day. This bench will surely be a hotspot for anyone in need of a place to rest, and having the benefit of charging a phone at the same time is always a plus! A small, thin solar panel is installed on the back of the bench and pointed directly into the sunlight, so while going out for a run or trip to the park during a warm, sunny day will be the prime time to use the Solar Bench. This bench includes two dual rapid-charge USB ports, or four ports total. This allows users to charge multiple devices simultaneously or offer up a charge to a friend or passerby.
