Featuring a Nest Swing Seat with a round, disc-like design, the Elite Series 5 Inch Single Post Nest Swing is great for kids who want a break from the typical belt seat swing set. The Nest Swing Seat resembles a tire swing but is thinner and made from rotationally-molded plastic; as a result, children can enjoy a unique and comfortable swinging experience. It's an especially great option for small children and their parents who want to help them get a feel for the playground, and thanks to the single-bay nature of the Elite Series 5 inch Single Post Nest Swing, parents needn't worry about their child getting bumped into by other swinging playground-goers. Children as young as two years old will love the Elite Series 5 inch Single Post Nest Swing, and parents are sure to appreciate its intuitive design. The Nest Seat is single occupancy but allows for extra room for users of many ages to relax and enjoy.
