If your playground could use a small yet sturdy play structure that'll get lots of attention, look no further than Little Lamb. Featuring three different ways for kids to get active, Little Lamb will have playground-goers coming back to play time and time again. The structure's dual slides are a perfect fit for kids who enjoy playing with a friend, and the slides are low enough to the ground that small children can safely play on them. Little Lamb's climbing wall is another great feature that allows kids to grab onto several different inlets and footholds in order to surmount the wall and reach the slides. For kids that wish to take the old-fashioned way up to the slide, Little Lamb also boasts simple, metal stairs lined with rails that lead directly to the top of the slides. Lastly, the ship's wheel at the base of Little Lamb is a great imagination-fueling feature for kids, allowing them to envision themselves as the captain of a great seafaring adventure.
