Like something you might find at the Olympics, the Over Under Agility Bar Set is a simple yet effective offering from PlaygroundEquipment.com's line of kids' physical fitness equipment. Arm and core strength training have never been easier with the Over Under Agility Bar Set, and children will love the chance to hop, skip, and jump over each of the six hurdles included. Intended for older and more athletically-inclined children, the Over Under Agility Bar Set also features steel bars that are rounded, making them safe and preventing accidental injury among the children who use them. Adding the Over Under Agility Bar Set to your outdoor fitness area is the perfect way to spruce it up and to add variety, and whether they're used by athletes or non-athletes, they're sure to be a valuable addition.
