The Straight Overhead Scaling Ladder is the perfect accessory to promote children's upper body development. Designed especially for kids, the Straight Overhead Scaling Ladder will serve as a challenge for kids as they travel deftly from one side to the other. This piece of outdoor fitness equipment is geared toward fun that also effectively exercises the upper body and core. By swinging from rung to rung, children won't merely be having fun; without even knowing it, they'll also be exercising important muscle groups, such as the latissimus dorsi and their abdominal muscles. An ideal addition to smaller outdoor spaces due to its compact nature, the Straight Overhead Scaling Ladder will stand the test of time and will immediately prove to be a useful addition to your playground or outdoor fitness area.
