Invite playground-goers to come sail away on Saalburg Sails! This new castle structure from PlaygroundEquipment.com's Castle Series has several unique features that will make kids feel as if they are in a beautiful island castle! The many interactive features will ensure that kids are entertained for hours and hours. The multi-leveled play structure allows for diversity of activities and plenty of room for kids to spread out and play. On the ground level, there is a drum panel that allows children to fill the castle with their rhythmic music. There is also a store panel, which encourages imaginative play. There are several climbers leading to the top of the structure, including a craggy island rock wall climber and an inverted arch ladder. There is also a stairway leading to the top for the smaller adventurers. A large wave slide is located at the top of the structure, leading back down to the bottom. Saalburg Sails is a beautiful island castle getaway for all kinds of playground-goers!
