For kids who seek adventure on the playground, Duke's Dwelling is an excellent choice. Part of PlaygroundEquipment.com's Castle Series of commercial play structures, Duke's Dwelling provides ample avenues of play within a relatively small space. A Single Drum as well as a set of Bongos comprise the ground-level activities available in Duke's Dwelling, and with them, kids can create their own drum-based music for the entire playground to hear. The Snake Climber provides an alternate route up the structure, and once elevated, kids will be able to play with the Castle Learning Panel as well as the Gear Panel, both of which will engage their creative minds. Once finished, the two slides are available to whoosh children back down to the ground. With Duke's Dwelling, your playground will gain a unique and valuable piece of equipment that will last for years to come.
