The Standing Drum Quintet is a unique assortment of outdoor drums that come in five different widths and tones. These drums are made specifically for young musicians, who could always use a chance to develop their musical skills. Arranged in a neat row, the Standing Drum Quintet offers the chance for kids to either play different drums by themselves or to collaborate and create percussive beats with their friends. With the primary color scheme, each of the drums has five differently colored lids to distinguish each drum, while the neutral color scheme utilizes three separate colors. Up to five children at once can use the Standing Drum Quintet, and young musicians will relish the opportunity to get out on the playground and produce melodious, percussive rhapsodies for all to hear.
