Spark of Fun has more than enough features for young, active minds and bodies. Meant specifically to be used indoors, Spark of Fun is designed to be compact, yet also replete with enough fun-filled play elements to keep kids busy for hours. The ground floor contains a Sneaker Keeper, a creative, honeycomb-shaped cubby shelf designed to keep kids' shoes safe and to avoid them becoming tripping hazards. Also present are the Ball Turn Activity Panel as well as the Tic-Tac-Toe Panel, which children can use in collaboration with their peers to amp up the fun. On the second floor, kids can find their way around the Squeeze Play, which will challenge them to contort their bodies in an effort to make it through to the other side. Once finished, kids can play with the Gyro Activity Panel or slide back down to the ground using the Enclosed Curved Tube Slide. There's a surfeit of excitement to be had with Spark of Fun. Please note: Surfacing tiles and ramps not included.
