True to its name, Hangtime Heights is a towering indoor play structure that will have kids playing for hours at a time. Indoor playgrounds are a relatively new innovation in the world of commercial playground equipment, yet they're gaining popularity for a number of reasons. Perhaps the biggest of these is that, although situated indoors, they facilitate the same thrilling playground experiences as an outdoor play structure. Starting at the ground level, kids can store their shoes and other belongings in the Sneaker Keeper, perfect for avoiding potential tripping hazards and keeping things neat and tidy. Additionally, the Tic-Tac-Toe Activity Panel allows for some friendly competition, challenging children to play with their peers. Moving on up Hangtime Heights, kids will find the 6' Enclosed Curved Tube Slide, which will return them safely back to the ground. Hangtime Heights will turn any indoor space into a bonafide playground that will go toe-to-toe with any of its outdoor counterparts. Please note: Surfacing tiles and ramps not included.
