Complete with everything children need for a fun day indoors, Kinder Cascade Indoor Playground bears all the hallmarks of a classic play structure, but with an indoorsy twist. Indoor playgrounds can be a godsend for teachers and adult caregivers who wish to bring their kids to the playground where they can exercise their minds and bodies. Kinder Cascade brings all the fun and amenities of a typical outdoor play structure indoors, where it will remain unaffected by the outdoor elements and other factors. On the ground level, kids can amuse themselves with the Tic-Tac-Toe Activity Panel as well as the Gyro Activity Panel, perfect for young kids who are still developing their hand-eye coordination. By ascending the 8-Level Deck Climb, children can also access the rocket ship that juts outside from the side of the structure, as well as the Enclosed Tube Spiral Slide, both of which make for exciting times. There's no shortage of ways to get active with Kinder Cascade. Please note: Surfacing tiles and ramps not included.
