Play systems for preschool-aged children are in high demand and the Grasshopper from Nature of Early Play certainly delivers! With amenities designed with their little hands and feet in mind preschoolers can explore their imaginations and interact with their friends with ease! A rope net climber helps children scramble to the top of the structure or if they want more of a challenge, the vertical rock climber is sure to be invigorating! A gear panel is available for kids to grow their dexterity skills and they can create a melodious tune with the chime panel! Parents can keep an eye on their children through the bubble panel while the kids look for friends and new play opportunities! When it's time to journey home and take rest from hours of play and fun, kids can safely zoom down the slide! Add the Grasshopper from Nature of Early Play to your playground and provide a fun play experience to the children of your community!
