For those that need a way to bring the arts to their playground, the Kids Bongo House is a worthy option. Bongos and chimes are present in the Kids Bongo House, and kids will relish the opportunity to create percussive, musical rhapsodies with their friends. Imaginative play is also enabled by the Kids Bongo House; kids can envision themselves playing as part of an orchestra at a packed concert, or simply by themselves. The hexagonal roof atop the Bongo House provides nearly 50 square feet of shade, and its verdant color means that it will serve as a great decoration. The Kids Bongo House features an ADA transfer deck and two benches, so even kids in wheelchairs can get in on the musical fun.
