San Marcos is an all-in-one play structure with more than enough play elements to keep kids active for hours on end. Its towering hexagonal shade is designed for maximum coverage, so children underneath it can stay cool and avoid sunburn. Starting on the ground floor, kids will find various panels to engage their minds, including the Half Spelling Panel, the Half Math Panel, and the Store Panel. For creatively-inclined young minds, the Bongos and the Ship's Wheel offer musical and imaginative fun. Ascending San Marcos can be accomplished using the Zipper Climber, the Vertical Ladder, the Pixel Climber, or the stairs, all of which lead to shady playground paradise. Though the upper deck of San Marcos makes an excellent hangout spot, children will eventually wish to whoosh back down to the ground using either of the two Right Turn Slides or the Straight Slide.
