The Freestanding Loop Rung is a wonderful addition to any playground. Children love playing outdoors on this climber, as they work to conquer the challenging playground climber, they are building strength, coordination, and confidence. This distinctive looking climber has side ladder to help children to reach and dismount the loop rings safely without having to jump. This playground climber is ideal for kids from 5-12 and is a great addition for playgrounds due to its muscle building rewards. Kids stay entertained as they challenge themselves and their friends to make it across the length of the climber. All Sii commercial playground equipment is compliant with ASTM and CPSC guidelines to ensure playground safety. The equipment is manufactured with 3.5-inch steel posts, creating a durable, safe, and long lasting structure, which can support up to four kids weight at a time.
