The Freestanding Wavy Deep Rung uses a wavy top rail, which creates different slopes for children to climb across using the deep rungs. Children and their friends will enjoy testing themselves and each other on this fun playground climber. There deep rungs are easily reached by utilizing the side ladders, this gives a child a safe way to mount and dismount the climber without the need to jump up or down. Children will develop strong upper body muscles and gain self-confidence while they work to master navigating this unique playground equipment. Sii brand commercial playground equipment is built with safety in mind, and complies with playground safety regulations. The Freestanding Wavy Deep Rung is built to last, can handle the weight of four children at once, and is manufactured using top quality materials.
