The Freestanding Zig-Zag Straight Rung is a fun variation on a classic piece of playground equipment; by adding the zigzag top bar when the child climbs across the rungs the height increase or decrease creating a slightly more difficult task. This overhead climber is a great way for kids to enjoy the outdoors and develop healthy habits. The Freestanding Zig-Zag Straight Rung is a great addition to any playground because it is fun and a great outdoor activity kids enjoy doing while they workout. The side ladders increase safety because they reduce the need for a child to jump up to grab the rungs or jump down to dismount the equipment. Children love to test their skills, and this playground climber is a great way to do that in an entertaining way. This durable climber is built to last and is made with galvanized steel.
