The RockWell Teeter Duo is unparalleled in its cooperative play. It is comprised of powder-coat painted galvanized steel with rotationally molded plastic seats. The powder-coat paint protects against rust and resists the effects of nasty weather. The entire unit is fastened to a hardy spring that adds a bounce to the back and forth tottering. Two steel rings extend out and are used for kids to balance and reposition themselves. Steel footholds are an additional safety feature that provides easy readjustments; ensuring kids are as in control and secure as possible. The hard plastic seats are a comfortable and durable necessity when bouncing along. The RockWell Teeter Duo comes in a variety of colors. If you need this structure fast, quick-ship in the primary and neutral color variations are your answer. Any other custom color will require 6 - 7 weeks to be processed and shipped. The RockWell Teeter Duo will bring an equal level of play to your playground.
