If you want to break away from the traditional look of most playground equipment, you will appreciate the unique style of this Lindsey Playground Structure by SportsPlay. Children are offered seven activities for hours of fun, including slides, stairs, a pad climber, chin up bar, guard rail with wheel and a Dino panel. This is a large and incredibly sturdy system that must be mounted into the ground. Of course, this will offer peace-of-mind to parents and guardians watching little ones play. The deck is easily secured to posts by using the included nuts. You may be interested to know that the diameter of the posts is 3.5 and 5 inches, just to give you an idea of how stable they are. The Lindsey Playground Structure can be personalized to your preferred color combination as well. This is a system children will love to play on!
