Rubber Tiles for Playgrounds

These basic rubber safety tiles provide an attractive playground safety surface for kids. Rubber playground tiles can also be used for a rooftop deck. Available in several thicknesses to accommodate different fall heights, these safety tiles come in a variety of colors. Basic rubber playground tiles are available in black and terra cotta, but green is available for a slightly higher price. Several colors, including an EPDM series, are also available for our rubber tiles.

After proper base preparation, this application is great for the do-it-yourself crowd. These tiles are easy to put together to create a kid-friendly surface to play on. Each tile is 22 inches x 44 inches rectangle with a fake seam, and locks together with adhesives. This creates a stable, safe play surface for kids on the playground. Rubber tiles are an affordable investment in children's safety! To calculate how many outdoor playground tiles your project will require, contact any of our sales associates to receive an accurate quote for the tiles and adhesives. In addition, accessible border ramps are available in various lengths for the varying tile heights. The borders provide for wheelchair accessibility and a smooth transition to the rubber tiles. Playground safety is only a click away at AAA State of Play!
