Add a bit of a twist to your playground with the Tropical Twist Play System. Built from powder coat painted galvanized steel and UV resistant rotationally molded plastic, the structure is designed to keep children safe as they go on their own jungle adventure. Before children even reach the playground, the Hex Bulb Roof, highly reminiscent of a straw hut, puts children in the mood for a jungle adventure. Children will ascend the Bamboo Arch Climber to reach the main platform under the cover of the roof. Immediately children need to choose whether to turn the gears on the Gear Panel to open a passage to their imagination or take the Spiral or Double Slide down. When they are done with the slide, a Bench Panel provides a cool restful area for children to take a break for the excitement around them. Remember, like any Playgroundequipment.com items, you can choose a custom color scheme to make the structure unique to your community.
