This Crown Style Trash Receptacle by Webcoat features vertically ribbed steel planks that flare into a crown towards the top while narrowing towards the bottom to create an aesthetically pleasing, smooth curve that adds a classic and sophisticated look to any outdoor area. Accenting your site amenities is a good idea for any park, school, or commercial site to bring about a sense of style and design and keeps visitors coming back frequently. This 32-gallon trash receptacle is both stylish and functional. The steel is coated in a strong textured coating that is UV-stable meaning it will resist cracking and fading that comes from sun exposure. This trash can comes with a textured polyethylene finish that resists scratching. Unlike the other trash receptacles, the flat top and liner that are pictured are included with your purchase of this item. In-ground or surface mounting equipment is sold separately.
