The Poly Pony Fun Bounce will make equestrians out of curious preschoolers. This rotationally molded plastic pony greets approachers with a friendly face, wide eyes and puffed out plastic tail. A powder-coat painted galvanized steel handle juts out of the pony's head and provides a superb place to hold on tight for a bumpy ride. The springy metal coil keeps the entire unit in place while allowing for a tremendous bounce session. Also, its ability to withstand constant stress and even inclement weather is unmatched. The Poly Pony Fun Bounce stimulates imaginative thinking. Children can imagine themselves as a cowboy or cowgirl galloping through a mid-western plain or escaping bandits. The best part of this bouncer is how intuitive it is. Preschoolers will be able to easily recognize this pony's purpose. All they have to do is hop on, bounce around and enjoy.
