Yo Ho, Yo Ho, the Royal Fortunes Play System is for me! This boat-themed playground is ready to be docked at school yards and commercial spaces nationwide. It is designed to welcome kindergarteners and older school-aged children to come test the waters. This structure is lined with wood-looking panels, Bird Toppers, flags, and sails that all help evoke some buccaneer camaraderie. Two Ship's Bows extend outward in both directions; making this system a real standout among its counterparts. Kids can flock to the ship's spacious hull for a social gathering of shipmates. Once kids have trekked the climb that this playground provides, two large slides greet the curious. One Straight Slide sends the little pirates into the drink and the Spiral Slide adds a twist to the glide down. So prepare to start your seafaring adventures.
