When a child wants to ride a bike, it is important to choose a trike that does not pose threats of danger from a frame that can pinch or spokes that can injure fingers or grab ahold of shoestrings. You want a product that is easy to learn on, comfortable to ride and transitions smoothly to a bike. The MyRider Bike is all of these things! The Vario Seat is long and curved in the right places to offer comfort while resisting slipping. The pedals are angled so small feet can operate them easier, and the solid rubber tires have no spokes. It is made from a one-piece welded crank with a no-pinch hub design and self-lubricating nylon bearings. Kids love the bright yellow paint, but you will appreciate that under that vibrant color is a welded, powder-coated steel frame that is durable and will resist scratches and rusting. The MyRider Bike transitions easy from a trike and comes fully assembled with a 5-year warranty.
