For a child that wants to start peddling, but is not quite ready to do it all on their own, the MyRider Mini Trike is the perfect compromise. It does feature angled pedals, however the Vario Seat is extra-long and curve upward in the back, so you can offer a push or help with steering when needed. The seat is also quite low to the ground so little ones can stand flat on their feet. The heavy rubber grips are easy to hold onto and the rubber, spokeless tires eliminate the risk of shoestrings getting tangled or fingers getting pinched. Nylon bearings and a welded steel frame provide a long lasting product while powder-coating keeps it looking its best. A 5-year warranty is included. No assembly is required.
