It is unfortunate that most trikes are made so they are low enough for little ones to stand flat on the ground, or they are tall enough for someone almost ready to ride a two-wheel bike. What about the children in the middle that are ready for the challenge of a seat that is just a bit higher? By not providing the challenge, they cannot further develop balancing skills. The MyRider Midi Trike is the perfect solution. The seat height is thoughtful, yet is still long enough to offer safety and stability. Rubber spokeless tires and heavy duty rubber handgrips offer peace-of-mind while the innovative design grants children their independence and provides hours of fun. The durable welded frame is powder-coated to resist rust and scratches while the nylon bearings are self-lubricating and require no maintenance. No assembly is required, and it comes with a 5-year warranty.
