Just because kids want to ride a bike does not mean that they are ready. Of course, they also do not want a trike that looks like it is made for a toddler. The ClassicRider 14-inch Trike offers a stylish appeal, with its red and black color palette and innovative styling, while still providing the important safety features needed at this age. This includes a nonslip seat, spokeless rubber wheels, heavy duty grips and non-exposed pedal hardware. You will also appreciate that this is a trike that will be on the playground or passed around to friends and family for a long time as it is built to last with nylon bearings and welded, powder-coated steel frame. A 5-year guarantee is included, and it ships fully assembled.
