What child would not light up like a Christmas tree at the thought of having this realistic Mailbox to play with? Most children actually might prefer imaginative play to hand-held gaming consoles and electric robots, if they had the right props to play with. Sometimes all they need is a little push for their imagination to run wild. This mailbox is extremely detailed with a front mail slot and a rear opening, so they can retrieve envelopes that need delivering. There is even a US Mail logo with the bald eagle on the front that looks like the real thing. This mailbox is crafted from strong polyethylene that is weatherproof so it does not need to be moved inside every time a rain cloud comes around. It weighs only 11 pounds and ships fully assembled, so it is ready to play with right out of the box. Pair the Mailbox with the My Mail Bag set to create the ultimate in mail delivery play.
