It is never too early to inspire learning, so although this Science Exploration Table is a must-have for the classroom, it is also ideal for day care facilities and home use as well. It is designed to be the perfect size and height to allow six children to comfortably explore together. It also weighs 38 pounds. This equipment is certainly not a flimsy table that will tip the minute someone rests their elbows on it. The deep center tub is removable, so it can be easily cleaned, so it can always be used for snacks as well! You will also notice that there are no sharp corners on this table; everything is curved so there is no risk of injury. The Science Exploration Table comes with two magnetic, two magnifying, and two reflective panels.
