Do you ever hear whining during story time from those that cannot see the book? Whether you are not holding the book high enough, or your thumb is covering an important part of the picture, there is always someone not quite happy. The Value Line Big Book Easel eliminates these problems and makes the job of the reader easier by not having to hold up a book. Simply rest the book up on top, and you can sit off to the side, out-of-the-way, allowing the pictures full visibility. It is made from maple-faced melamine panels that boast round edges and are easy to clean, which anyone can appreciate. All tools needed for assembly are included and it comes with a lifetime warranty against material and manufacturing defects. The easel is made in the USA.
