It's important in the United States to ensure that all dog owners now whether they are allowed to take their dog off the lead or not. It's important that people know exactly what the rules are, and failure to provide a sign could cause people to break the rules without realizing. It's important in your playground that people know whether it's acceptable to take their dog off the lead. This Aluminum Off-Leash Pet Sign can easily be fitted to posts and gates within your playground or your land, and tells people loud and clear that it is perfectly acceptable to take their dog off the leash. Make sure you have one so that you do not cause any confusion when people pay visits with their canine friends.
